FINANCING OF NEW HOSPITAL STARTED HERE

Active work has started to provide Richmond and vicinity with a modern hospital. The sale of the securities for what is to be known as "Hospital Richmond Inc." was launched yesterday by the fiscal agent, L. F. Bollinger. The sale of the securities will be pushed as rapidly as possible, so that the hospital may be erected and opened for the use of the public. Preliminary organization of the new company has been effected with V. A. Fenner as president, J. L. Eakie vice president, Justice of the Peace Arthur Alstrom as secretary and T. H. DeLap as attorney.

The new Hospital Richmond, will be located upon a site selected in a quiet, dignified neighborhood, where it can be easily reached and physical conditions are most advantageous, with ample room for expansion.

TO SELECT SITE
The site for Hospital Richmond will be selected by a site committee and the building contract will be let to the lowest responsible bidder by the building committee. Although E. W. Cannon, the architect, at the present time has produced working drawings so as to enable to proceed with the actual building without delay, his plans will not be adopted as the permanent plan for the building until so approved by the building committee. Each of the committees mentioned above will be selected from among the stockholders.

100-BED HOSPITAL
The building as planned, will be a class "A" steel structure. (Continued on Page Eight)

Modern Hospital To Be Constructed In Richmond

Sketch for proposed hospital to be erected here at a cost of $500,000 will provide modern equipment and accommodations for patients of Richmond and Contra Costa County.

Hospital Plan Is Favored By Richmond Men

The new hospital project has been given a great deal of time and consideration by men in Richmond, who are interested in its welfare and growth. They heartily approve of the undertaking as one of the vital needs of Richmond.

ENDORSEMENTS

Some of the endorsement given are as follows:
"I believe that you and your associates should be given all the support possible toward the promotion of a hospital for the City of Richmond. We should have a population large enough to support the kind of a hospital which you have in mind for this city and believe if such a venture as this ultimately has the co-operation of the people it should be a success."

(Signed) LARKIN J. YOUNCE.

HOSPITAL NEEDED

Mr. Bollinger has surmounted many difficulties in obtaining his permit from the California Commissioner, and the general "set-up" under which he must operate. I think will satisfy you that the stockholders interests will be protected at all times.

The operating schedule shows that the hospital can be made to pay as many hospitals do, earn good dividends.

Richmond certainly is sadly in need of a first class hospital and should receive the support of everyone either by stock subscription or outright contributions.

Undoubtedly you are going to find that the job you have undertaken will demand a great deal of time and hard work on your part to put it over, but I am sure the satisfaction you will get out of the fact that Richmond has a hospital that can adequately take

9 ARRESTED IN MARTINEZ RAID

MARTINEZ, Feb. 21. — Staging one of the biggest raiding expeditions undertaken in Martinez in many months, Clyde Laird, chief of the county prohibition squad, led his operative and a squad of San Francisco detectives and federal agents in sorties here last night that netted seven men and two women and resulted in the collection of fines aggregating $2300 in the court of Justice of the Peace Frank Glass.

Several of those arrested are previous offenders. Adopting a new mode of procedure the raiders gave their victims the choice of pleading guilty to charges of illegal possession of liquor here or facing nuisance charges with the added penalty of prosecution in the federal courts.

Three of those arrested, S. Bardelli Pacheco hotel operator, and William Enos, and his wife, Margaret, arrested at 1919 Ferry street decided to fight the accusations against them. They were charged with maintaining common nuisances. Bardelli provided bail of $5,000, the highest amount ever fixed on a liquor charge here, and bail for Enos and his wife was fixed at $1,000 each.

The raiders declared that only small amounts of liquor were secured. No trouble was experienced on any of the raids.

Six of those arrested pleaded guilty in the court of Justice of the Peace Frank Glass and five paid fines. The sixth, Harvey Martin, 404 Main street, was committed to jail for 40 days when a $400 fine was unpaid.

Those who paid fines were: C. Mancini, 721 Berrelesse street, $400; John Lavello, Liberty Hotel, $500; Arnold Martinielli, $400; and M. Pistochini, $500.

MOTORIST FINED

For failure to have current license plates on his machine William Nicoloff, 114 Mason street, San Francisco was fined $5 by Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Alstrom, yesterday. He was given until February 28 to pay the amount. State Traffic Officer R. R. Cheek made the arrest.

Record-Herald Scores Again

The superiority of the RECORD-HERALD news service was well illustrated yesterday morning. It was the only paper in the state that carried the story of the "bribe" probe that broke at the meeting of the El Cerrito Council Monday evening.

The importance of the story is evidenced by the fact that all of the afternoon papers of the bay section run the story with double headlines.

If you want the news, and want it fresh, you must read the RECORD-HERALD.

Heating Company Named Official Raud Dealers

The Richmond Plumbing and Heating Company at 266 12th street, recently incorporated of which C. V. Bradbury is general manager has been appointed as an official display sales and service station for the celebrated Raud line of water heaters. This appointment is in line with the policy of the new company to handle only standard high grade lines. The business was consummated by W. F. Bergendoff, sales representative of the Pollard-Seagrave Co. of 320 13th street, Oakland, general sales agents for the Raud line in Alameda and Contra Costa counties.

There are already several hundred Raud Heaters in use in Richmond, including large heaters in the Elks Club and the Carver Club and in the homes of many prominent residents, among them J. F. Brooks of the Standard Oil Company, Dr. C. R. Blake, B. H. Tucker and many others.

The Raud Company is an outstanding concern in the water heater field being not only the oldest but the largest manufacturer in the country. They have recently added to their line of heaters two new models which are particularly adapted to use in smaller homes. These models, the AO-20 and AO-30 are of the automatic storage type with 20 and 30 gallon capacities. Embodied in these models are all the features of the Raud Storage heaters which have sold for years at prices ranging from 250 to 600 dollars, yet these heaters can be put in your home for as little as $10.00 and $9.50 per month.

S. F. ENGINEER PLEADS GUILTY

MARTINEZ, Feb. 21. — Victor Loughheed, 50, San Francisco inventor and author, entered a surprise plea of guilty to an assault with intent to commit a statutory offense today on appearance for his trial before Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie and was sentenced to a term of seven months in the county jail and placed on probation for five years.

The guilty plea was presented as a panel of fifty jurors waited to be called for examination in Loughheed's second trial on a statutory charge preferred by Miss Esther Leighton, 22-year-old San Francisco newspaper solicitor.

In sentencing Loughheed, the court took into consideration five months that he spent in San Quentin penitentiary, while awaiting Appellate Court action on an appeal from his conviction by a jury last September of assault with intent to commit a statutory offense.

Miss Leighton charged that Loughheed had assaulted her during an automobile ride in the Berkeley hills. She failed to appear at Loughheed's first trial and the testimony she gave at the preliminary examination was introduced. Loughheed was found guilty and sent to prison. His conviction was reversed and a new trial ordered.

The move in pleading guilty to the reduced charge, accepted by the prosecution, came as a surprise. Deputy District Attorney James F. Hoey has represented the state and J. E. Rodgers and A. F. Bray appeared for the defense.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 21.—The wisest verdict in the history of California jurisdiction was handed down today in the case of the six felons charged with the murder of Ray Singleton, Folsom guard, slain during the bloody prisoner's uprising last Thanksgiving day.

Club Mendelssohn Operetta Held Huge Success

The closing performance of Club Mendelssohn's operetta "In the Garden of the Shah" like the first night, filled the California theatre and added considerably to the scholarship fund of the club for which reason the annual productions are staged.

Everyone is unanimous in the opinion, that the operetta this year surpasses all previous productions of Club Mendelssohn from the standpoint of music, acting and chorus numbers.

While a report on the finances will not be available for a few days, it is felt that the operetta was as successful financially as it was from the standpoint of production.

Electric Rates Effective Mar. 1

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—A new schedule that will cut the electricity costs of the average household nearly 10 per cent was filed today by officials of the Great Western Power company and the Pacific Gas and Electric company with the State Railroad Commission.

According to A. F. Hockenbeamer, president of the P. G. & E. company, this is the largest voluntary reduction ever made by a public utility corporation in California and will save consumers a total of more than $2,000,000.

The new schedule allows two kinds of rates, one a lighting rate and the other a combination rate that will cover domestic activities, such as cooking and heating with electrical appliances.

The former rate takes effect March 1, and the latter April 1. At present there is a minimum of rate of 90 cents a month in cities in the Bay District area. This will give way to a 40-cent service charge and a top rate for electricity of 5 cents a kilowatt hour.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY TINNING ENTERS EL CERRITO SCANDAL AND STARTS INVESTIGATION

Developments came thick and fast yesterday in the bribe offer scandal that broke at the meeting of the council at El Cerrito Monday night, and which was handled exclusively by the RECORD-HERALD Tuesday morning.

El Cerrito was rocked to its foundations by the revelations that were made as the result of the communication of William F. Huber, whose assertions were verified by Councilman Philip A. Lee.

CONFERS WITH TINNING
District Attorney Attorney A. B. Tinning has entered on the scene, and had Lee in conference with him all yesterday afternoon at Martinez. Just what took place between the two could not be ascertained but over the telephone last evening Tinning stated Lee had been there, and he proposed to sift the matter to the bottom.

Two others heretofore unknown in connection with the alleged sending of $975 to Lee, who was returned, entered the arena.

One was George A. Greene, Jr., who at one time resided at 320 Sacramento Street in the Richmond Annex, address now unknown, and to whom is alleged the money was returned through the Richmond postoffice through "Box 1246."

The other is John A. Miller, deputy internal revenue collector, who resides in Richmond. Last evening Miller made a statement to a representative of the RECORD-HERALD concerning his part in the matter.

TELLS OF PACKAGE
"I was called in by Lee to witness the amount of money that was received by him. It was done up in a piece of wrapping paper, addressed to Lee at El Cerrito, and in the upper left-hand corner was "Box 1246, Richmond, Calif." My advice to Lee was to send it all back by registered mail and demand a return receipt.

MONEY COUNTED
"The money was counted three times in the presence of C. Bagley and myself. The amount was $975, made up principally of $50 bills. The money was then put in an envelope and addressed to "Box 1246, Richmond, Calif., and taken to the El Cerrito postmaster, but it was refused because registered mail could not be addressed to a 'Box' but must be sent to an individual, especially when a return receipt was requested.

RECEIVER RETURN RECEIPT
"Investigation was made and it was found that Box 1246 at Richmond had been rented to George A. Greene, Jr., and the letter was sent to that address with a return receipt requested. Lee got the return receipt, with the name 'George A. Greene, Jr.' signed to it.

"Mr. Bagley and myself were with Lee when the package of money was mailed. I made a written statement of the affair at that time, and now have a copy of it in my possession. My connection with the matter ended at that time."

MILLER'S STATEMENT
The statement that Miller made concerning the money is as follows:

Richmond, California,
August 29th, 1927.

In regard to a parcel mailed through the Richmond Post Office on August 27th, 1928, at the hour of 10:30 a. m. on said day to:

Phillip A. Lee,
El Cerrito, Calif.

Said package contained the sum of $975.00 (Nine Hundred and Seventy-five Dollars) currency of the United States!

On the face of said package was written the return address of:

PUTTING DOWN CRIME

It is a matter for congratulation that crime is less in New York than it was a year ago.

This shows not only good work on the part of the individual policeman, but also efficient administration of the department.

As long as there are human beings, in all probability there will be crime.

The trouble that was started by Cain is nowhere near solution, even after centuries of civilization.

The best that can be hoped in any circumstances is that the public will be protected in as large a measure as possible.

Commissioner Warren has helped bring about that condition to a marked extent, and all without fuss or excitement.

Specifically, there has been a marked decline in murder accompanied by the commission of robberies.

The number of policemen, as well as of private citizens, who died from this cause in 1927 was but half of the total rolled up in 1926.

This can be taken as an indication that the police have their job in hand and are sticking to it.

PAYING FOR MISERY

People who mourn the death of a loved one are made the prey of profiteering sharks.

Facts brought out by a competent committee, and based upon a two-year survey, show that to the terror of death is usually added the terror of financial worries.

These facts show that in Manhattan more than $500 of estates amounting to $1,000 or less is absorbed in paying funeral expenses.

As the value of estates goes up so do funeral costs.

There apparently is no limit to the amounts that are assessed against the bereaved.

Sorrow and distress are used as levers to pry the last possible dollar from grieving widows and fatherless children.

Reputable members of the organization of funeral directors are working to bring about reforms.

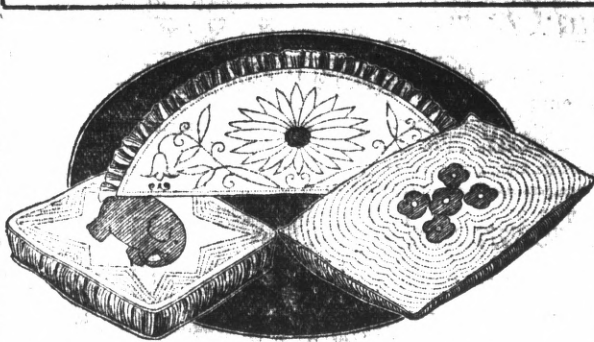

Their efforts should be backed by the wholehearted support of clergymen, sextons, social workers, and others who come into close contact with humanity in its moments of deepest grief.

Remember the good old fashioned days when you believed that all the sparklers in the vaudeville queen's stage dress were real diamonds?

It used to be the coals from father's pipe which burned a hole in the parlor rug, but now it's the butt of mother's cigarette which causes the damage.

Our colleges have gained 25 per cent in enrollment during the past five years. This ought to make for bigger and better football teams.

THREE JOLLY PILLOWS

Needlework, like history, tends to repeat itself, so that now we find ourselves back again doing the old-fashioned quilting that our grandmothers used to do so beautifully. Quilts, crib covers, chair backs and cushions for bedroom, nursery or sunroom use are especially attractive and one can hardly have too many of them.

But cushions, to be worth anything, should be useful and the silk and taffeta ones will inevitably be kept for show. For real comfort, make cushions like the ones shown here, that can be thumped and squeezed and thrown about and then tucked, coming out of the wash as good as new. It is hard to believe that this attractive group was made out of nothing except empty flour bags, washed, ironed and decorated in a variety of simple but effective ways.

The bags can usually be bought from your baker for a few cents. The inkling is removed by covering it with lard or kerosene overnight and then washing the bag in lukewarm water. If you are handy with a pencil you can draw or trace some easy conventional designs. If not, transfer patterns are inexpensive. These, with some odds and ends of gingham, chambray and other cotton pieces, and mercerized embroidery thread, are all the materials you need. A thin sheet of cotton wadding placed underneath the cloth will, however, give the cushion more of a quilted effect.

The oblong cushion is boxed, the sides being of the same contrasting goods as the applied design in the center. The edges may be corded or stitched. The moon pillow has a narrow ruffle to match the center design, while the square one, intended for nursery use, carries a circus menagerie that is sure to win youthful hearts.

An interesting variation is to follow the outline of the design in rick-rack braid. The braid is first basted on and then a single stitch about three-eighths of an inch long is taken at each point of the braid, using a thread of smartly contrasting color.

Crazed As Love Spurned, Loves Wax Image Of Girl

Death came recently in Budapest to Michael Kollosky, known for many years throughout Austria and Hungary as the "mad man who loved the wax doll."

Kollosky, a member of an aristocratic Hungarian family, fell in love several years ago with a beautiful Jewish girl and proposed marriage. The girl's parents, however, refused their consent on the ground that Kollosky was a Christian, and shortly afterward the young Jewess married a man of her own religion.

The shattering of his dream turned Kollosky's brain. He rented a flat in a house facing that in which his lost love lived with her husband and every hour of the day he watched her window from his own.

One day a number of packing cases arrived from Paris and were delivered at Kollosky's flat. For several weeks he looked into the room and would not even allow his housekeeper to enter.

Finally the housekeeper, fearing for her master's safety, looked through the keyhole and was astounded to see him talking, as she thought, to the beautiful Jewess. She knocked and was admitted, only to find that the girl had disappeared.

It was some time before the police ascertained the truth, which was that Kollosky had made a wax model of his lost love. He had dressed the mannequin in clothing, reproducing those which from his window he saw her wearing, and he spent hours declaring his love to the lifeless model.

When the object of his affection became a mother the unfortunate mad man had made a wax doll which he placed in the wax mannequin's arms.

The police doctor persuaded Michael Kollosky to enter an asylum, where he was kept until it was in that institution that he died.

VIGOROUS HEALTH

The gall bladder when diseased can give rise to some very distressing symptoms, so that the patient is often quite willing to listen to the surgeon's suggestion that it be removed. After it is removed, however, the patient realizes that a mistake he has made.

The purpose of the gall bladder is to serve as a storage tank for bile, which is secreted by the liver and is one of the most important digestive juices. Between meals bile is stored and most of it is secreted while during digestion larger amounts are manufactured and poured into the intestines, both via the gall bladder and direct from the liver.

What happens when the gall bladder is removed? The bile is poured into the intestines just as it is formed by the liver. Between meals too much will reach the intestines because none is being stored. Then when a meal is eaten there will not be enough bile, because there is no stored supply upon which to draw. So to remove the gall bladder is certain to interfere with digestion and bowel action and hence indirectly with every function of the body. The sensible thing to do is to remove the causes of the gall bladder trouble instead of the organ itself.

I have been drinking a quart of milk per day in order to gain weight. I do not seem to have much appetite for meals. Do you think it would be better to discontinue the milk?

R. H.
Instead of discontinuing the milk, discontinue some of the other foods you are taking. Drinking milk between meals constitutes overeating and is not a rational method of gaining weight. The exclusive milk diet is generally very helpful. If this cannot be used a combination of milk and fruit for two meals and one meal of natural solid foods may be employed. Due attention must always be given to exercise and sleep.

Paris Now Lists Scarf Important; Latest Gown Ideas

Scarfs continue to be a popular item in the smart wardrobe, according to Worth, famous couturier, who has designed new and charming variations for winter resort wear. These scarfs are either oblong or square in shape. The newest are broad oblong pieces of voile, shading from deep colors to pastel shades in the center and further ornamented with a small plaid design in white.

Polka dots appear in most of the designs. There are charming scarfs in white, with small black polka dots in the center, and a wide border of black with large white polka dots. Even striped scarfs employ this design motif, and many long scarfs of pale colors in wide stripes incorporate polka dots in the stripes.

Chiffon handkerchiefs which tie around the hand are the latest fashion whim.

Dear Patricia Lee:

I am an American white girl, born and brought up in the north woods. Seven years ago, when I was 17, I married a neighbor boy of French descent. I was only with him about three weeks when I broke up and I went directly back to my husband and in due time there was born a very cute baby girl. No one ever suspected my secret; no one of those involved does now. No one knows but her true daddy and myself. Two years afterward I had a fair boy a real blond. My husband and I broke up and I got a divorce. Then I put the girl in an upstate city home for children. She has never been very strong and does not get along good in this home. One year ago I married her true daddy—who is colored. No one has ever thought she had colored blood, but we want to have her with us, and we can bring her up and educate her with the best. My little boy is with my mother. Would you advise us to take them both back and bring them up as stepchildren—Betty

Dear Betty—

I don't think there is any question, my dear, but that you ought to bring the little girl back to live with you. Since you are now married to her real father and she is delicate and needs your attention she ought to be in her own home. It would be cruelly to bring her up without the knowledge of her parentage that she must learn in later years. With the little boy, it is quite different. Perhaps, if he is happy with your mother, it would be more advantageous to leave him there. It is always harder for a boy to adapt himself to a changed environment, and, of course, yours is the only relationship that would hold him among the people you have chosen and whom he may not want to choose. The question of intermarrying between the races is one that is still unsolved and probably will be even when your children have grown up. Therefore, I think your little girl should know the truth from childhood and that the little boy ought not to be brought up in surroundings that may prove alien to him.

These are "tete a tete," an afternoon frock in a silk foulard, which has a small pattern of var-colored flowers on a black background. The blouse is plain with a V-shaped neckline, having a small bow in front. Bishop sleeves and the interesting skirt has five pleated tiers, with a splendid upward movement in the front.

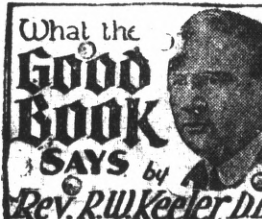

The evening gown selected by Miss Eames is in red velvet further embellished with a diamond ornament. This gown has a full circular skirt which dips in the back in the new way and a double diagonal line of small scallops which extends from the left shoulder to the hem on the right side.

The words were scarcely out of my mouth when the telephone rang and I had to go to answer it, exposing the needlework. My neighbor, far exceeded the proverbial best—Jane Rider.

"THE JAZZ SINGER," starring Al Jolson, is a Warner Bros. production of this novel. It is based upon the play by Samson Raphaelson.

SYNOPSIS

Doctor Rabinowitz has trained his son, Jackie, to sing the Hebrew songs of the Synagogue. On the Eve of the Day of Atonement he finds Jackie singing ragtime in a "beer garden." He whips the child and Jackie runs away. Ten years elapse. Jackie, now Jack Robin, a jazz singer, meets Mary Dale, a dancer, who obtains a part for him in her vaudeville act. Mary returns to New York to star in a musical comedy and urges Lee, the producer, to send for Jack. Jack returns home. His father hears him playing jazz and orders him out. Meanwhile Mary awaits his arrival at rehearsal.

"That's just the point, Mary: I can't. Bolton's signed up with the movies—just yesterday. I got that straight from Tom Wheeler. And this whole thing's got me a little upset. We've got two weeks ahead of us, I know, but I don't want to take any chances and have to stick someone in at the last moment."

"Wait until you hear this boy."

You'll be featuring him all over the place the day after we open. I tell you, Harry, I heard him sing in "Coffee Dan's," and it almost took my breath away. He's got something that none of these other "Mammy" singers have—a personality combined with a voice that simply makes you choke. I don't know where he ever learned to sing that way, but it seems natural to him. I don't even know where he came from—he never told us anything about himself when we

"Mr. Robin has just come in from Chicago," Mary explained. "He was with the 'Little Follies' act out there and has been touring the West for some time."

"Oh, I see. Well, this looks like a pretty good show," Carter smiled at Lee. "Hope you like us. If I can do anything let me know."

"Thanks," Jack grinned happily. "I want to run through that Dixie scene today. You come in there—you can just read the part," Lee explained to Jack.

"Clear the stage for the Dixie scene, Gene." He turned to the stage manager, who also played the role of detective in the show. "Is everybody concerned in the Dixie scene here?" he called loudly.

The chorus girls now at rest lined up about the stage. The principals drifted on leisurely and took their positions.

"Everybody concerned in the Dixie scene stand by," the stage manager was calling. "Hy, Miss Glynn—Dixie scene!" He beckoned to a girl moving about in the wings and who came running on at his summons.

"Now all I want to get this afternoon are entrances and exits and positions," Lee crossed the stage and sat down in a chair beside the assistant stage manager, who was holding the script for prompts.

"Oh, Mary, but it's good to see you again. Don't run away right now," Jack begged as soon as Lee was out of hearing.

"I'm not running away, but I've got to go on in just a minute now," Mary laughed delightedly. "There's Carter's on."

"Mr. Carruthers, I'm from headquarters, and I tell you—Jack could hear Carter's voice rattling off the lines.

"Mary can't you have dinner with me tonight? It seems so long since I've seen you, and I want to hear all about everything," Jack caught Mary's hand and held it closely.

"And, what's more, he has been very disrespectful to your daughter, Gwendolyn," Carter was saying, though Jack was paying little attention to what was happening on the stage.

"Will you, Mary? That is, if you haven't made any other arrangements," Jack amended hastily, fearing that he might have been too demanding.

"Gwendolyn, come here!" the stage manager was picking up his cue.

"I might consider it," Mary looked up at Jack mischievously. "Gwendolyn, come here!" That's your cue, Miss Dale," the stage manager looked about for Mary.

"Oh, sorry," Mary ran out and took her place. "Yes, father," she gave her line.

Jack, his eyes intent on the girl, moved backstage and found a prop chair out of the way and sat down and waited. He watched her move about, caught the charmingly graceful curves of her body, as she walked back and forth under Lee's direction. No wonder, Jack thought, Lee had chosen her for the lead. She was by far the loveliest there among the bevy of girls picked mainly because of their beauty. So absorbed was he that he looked startled when he heard his name being called.

KEY SYSTEM HOLDS PROBE OF FERRY DISASTER

A. J. Lundberg, president of the Key System Transit Company, announced that the Key System will make a complete and thorough investigation into the accident to the Peralta on last Friday. This examination will be conducted under the direct charge of the American Bureau of Shipping, and the Lloyds. It was originally intended that this investigation should be held beginning yesterday morning, but owing to the fact that the federal authorities were still conducting their investigation and that it would be impossible to get many of the witnesses, the independent investigation will be held later in the week. This independent investigation will be held on not only the conditions surrounding the accident itself, but also the condition of the ferry steamer Peralta. The independent investigation will be open to the public and will be conducted by representatives of the two greatest marine organizations in the world, the American Bureau of Shipping, and the Lloyds. President, Lundberg, announced today that the Key System Transit Company wanted the most thorough investigation by all recognized government and marine authorities.

President Lundberg said, "The Key System Transit Company is more interested than anyone else in discovering the truth about this accident. The Key System Transit Company deplores more than anyone else the fact of the accident; and the Key System Transit Company is determined to go to the bottom of the matter with the aid of all recognized authorities. The Key System Transit Company does not believe that there is any fundamental difficulty with the steamer Peralta which is considered the finest boat on San Francisco bay and practically unsinkable. If there has been any neglect on the part of the crew of the boat, it will be promptly met and remedied, with the ferry boat itself, there is nothing wrong I am sure, and they will be definitely determined after the examinations are all completed. It will not be held in secret, but will be open to all."

The federal authorities are at present conducting an investigation regarding the accident. The Key System Transit Company is co-operating with these officials to the limit. Until this investigation is completed, the Key System Transit Company will not attempt any independent action. This investigation of the federal authorities deals largely with the accident itself, and the causes thereof. The Key System Transit Company proposes to go into the whole question of the seaworthiness of the Peralta which is believed to be perfect.

"The Peralta was passed by every federal official and board that had jurisdiction over the ferry boat service on San Francisco Bay. In addition, she was inspected by insurance underwriters, our naval architects and our own engineers. She was pronounced an unsinkable boat. The boat was not overloaded, having less than 300 passengers on board, with a rated capacity for 4500. There were 4000 adult for children.

"The Key System Transit Company proposes to set at rest any and all questions concerning the accident of Friday night and the character of the boat itself."

WHERE THERE'S A THRILL THERE'S A CROWD—

Y. L. I. CAGERS WIN VICTORY IN HOOP GAMES

After losing one hard fought contest by one point when the Richmond Y. L. I. were beaten by the Alameda Y. L. I. the Richmond girls came right back last night and won a contest from the Berkeley Telephone girls by the score of 25 to 24. The game was a close-hard-fought affair, but after the game of Monday night there was not as much interest shown.

Cecilia Desmond shot most of the buckets for the winners. When her total number of baskets was counted up after the game, it was found that she had sent the ball through the hoop ten times, making a total score of 19 points. Louise Desmond shot the remaining six points of the 25 collected during the evening.

For the losers D. Kress made 21 of the 24 points and J. Busutich shot the remaining three points.

The game was played in the Roosevelt Junior high school gym and not a substitute was used during the whole contest.

Here are the lineups of the two teams:

Richmond—Forwards, Cecilia Desmond and Louise Noverini; centers, Grace Berk and Alice Maloney; guards Agnes Ring and Mary Gately.

Berkeley Telephone Girls—Forwards, D. Kress and J. Busutich; centers, E. Wilson and L. Freeman; guards, H. Frankie and G. Covell.

BAPTISTS AND LUTHERANS WIN CAGE GAMES

In the first game of the Sunday School Basketball league played on the "Y" courts last night the contest between the Grace Lutheran and the First Christians was a walk-away for the Lutherans, point against their weaker brothers' 10 points. Santillia, Baldwin, and Gillan, were trying to see how many buckets they could shoot but all they could do was to collect six apiece, making a total score of 36 points. More for the Christians, collected six of his teams' 10 points.

When the Community Methodists and the First Baptists met in the second game there was more of an even contest, but the First Baptists came through with a win by shooting 21 to their opponents' 15 points.

Lindsteadt for the Baptists went wild in the basket shooting department of the game and accounted for 15 of his teams' 21 points. For the Community Methodists Foreman and Hillier accounted for two buckets each.

The line-ups for the teams were:

Grace Lutherans—Forwards, Santillia and Hoylman; center, Milicovich; guards, Baldwin and McLaughlin. Substitutes—Lane, Gillan, Gray.

First Christians—Forwards, Christians and Craig; center, Moore; guards, Sprague and Livermore. Substitutes, none.

Community Methodists—Forwards, Lockwood and Hillier; center, Foreman; guards Rowe and Bennett. Johnson was the substitute.

First Baptists—Forwards, E. Regalla and F. Baskett; center, Sowers; and guards Lindsteadt, and M. Baskett.

The game was fast and furious all the way but the boys from Richmond were shooting from every angle. A Ellis was especially adapted to the art of goal shooting, when he scored 13 of the teams points.

The Rammers' lineup: B. Ellis, 5, Roger 5, Rice 2, Don Shoemaker 2, all forwards; A. Ellis, 13, center; Ripley and Dave Shoemaker, guards.

CAL. FROSH AND CARD. CAGERS CLASH TONITE

BERKELEY, Feb. 21. — The freshman basketball team of California and Stanford will meet in the second game of their "Little Big Series" tonight on the Palo Alto campus and as was the case before the first battle neither can be hoped to win.

The Cardinals captured the first game 24 to 22 after a spirited California rally carried the Bears from a position seven points in the rear, but the two point margin does not constitute sufficient basis for hope. Coach Clint Evans will endeavor to force the series to a third and deciding game and to this end will start the same line-up which played for the Bear Babes last week.

Joel Coffield will again be seen at forward in place of Ralph Pidgeon. The Napa boy played a great game when he was moved from the running guard position as did Fred Federighi who took his place. Captain Ike McCoy, standing guard, injured his ankle in practice against the variety last night, but will probably be able to start. Ewede Granger at forward and George Watkins at center complete the first five.

In the game last Wednesday night the Stanford freshmen looked mighty good, but were inclined to rest and take things easy after they had accumulated a little as a seven point margin. If they do this again, the series will likely go the full three games. The third is scheduled to be played as a preliminary to the California-Stanford varsity game Saturday night in the Kezar court, San Francisco.

The Bear Babes featured last week with their fast-breaking offense. It was this more than anything else that gave the Bears a four point lead before the Cards were able to get going. The Bear guards, Federighi and McCoy took the ball off the backboard better than did the Cardinal guards and allowed the visitors no follow-up shots. The Bears on the other hand were taking a good many follow-ups and made a fair percentage of them good.

The California Poppy was chosen as the Troop flower and the Meadow Lark was chosen as the patrol name.

Grace Bodin passed a tenderfoot test during the meeting. Games were played and songs were sung.

A cigarette,
I call it!

YES, I made it myself, but I'm talking about the tobacco. Good old Prince Albert. Cool and even-burning. Mild. Mellow. Plenty of rich, tasty body. The kind of cigarette you can make and take, end on end, from morning to midnight. P.A. is crimp-cut. It stays where you put it and burns even and cool. The taste is one you can't forget. It's like inhaling mountain air that has filtered through sun-drenched pines. You'll get poetic, too, when you try rolling 'em with P.A. All that I've said here about P.A. for cigarettes goes for Prince Albert in a pipe, too. Try it!

The papers DO make a difference

Direct from the famous Bolleré Mills, in France, come OCB cigarette-papers. Proudford product of the world's acknowledged leaders. Put P.A. in OCBs and you have the A B Cs of home-rolled perfection. 150 leaves, 5¢, where you buy your P.A.

Through careful study by the architect and others responsible for the construction of the Hospital Richmond project, the building available at reasonable prices. STUDY MENTAL EFFECT
The structure will be of appealing architectural lines, and harmonious interior decorations, cognizes the market man's demand as medical science of today recognizes the market effect of the patients mental attitude upon a successful outcome of curative effort.

TO COST $360,000
Hospital Richmond, completely equipped, will cost approximately $360,000. The capital stock is to be sold in units of four shares each, $150.00 per unit. Pay value of each share is $50.00. A unit will consist of three shares of 8 per cent preferred stock, one share of common stock to be given as a bonus.

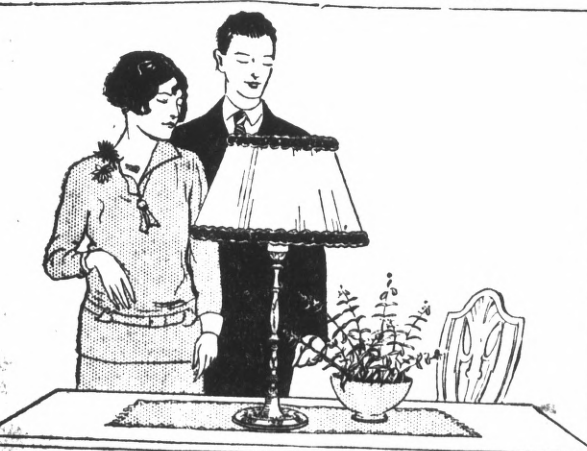

Every citizen of Richmond and Contra Costa County realizes that there is not a sufficient number of available hospital beds to care for their daily needs, to say nothing of an emergency during an epidemic.

ON-SECTARIAN
Hospital Richmond, will be modern in every respect, each department will be selected by the governing board, selection being based upon their record of efficiency and character. Complete laboratories to facilitate immediate diagnosis and every appliance necessary to medical science will be installed. It will be a non-sectarian, open staff, non-aetional institution, built for the profit and protection of each individual in this county, owned and governed by the stockholders.

TRAINING SCHOOL
A training school for nurses will be maintained, where young women may procure ethical training in their chosen profession. Richmond and Contra Costa county have progressed in many ways, in fact, every way, except in hospitalization and now it is recognized as the most urgent public need. With these facts, unquestionable there will be a decided unity of effort to complete the project at the earliest possible time, thereby safeguarding the interests of the entire community.

When an approximate amount of $100,000 is subscribed, the company, through outside financing will be in a position to start actual construction. Already an appreciable amount of this figure has been subscribed.

CORONA—Shell Oil company will build wholesale distributing plant here.

New, cheerful lighting—free trial in your home

The money you spend for one of these lamps does considerable to improve the appearance of your furnishings.

For the abundance of soft, colorful light makes an "interior" seem lovelier. It's just like redecorating the whole room.

There is a reflector under the silk shade that distributes the light over the entire room. This is the new principle of design that combines beauty with good lighting and eliminates harmful glare and gloom.

The lamps have a base finished in silver or gold and there is a selection of four silk shades. Phone and ask our representative to place one of these lamps in your home for a three-day trial.

burglary and forgery respectively. Yet the jury left Superior Judge John F. Pullen no alternative, except to send them back to prison, little, if any, worse off than they were before the murder of Singleton.

CONVICTS REJOICE
The convicts, themselves, were jubilant over the outcome. They shook hands gratefully with their defense attorneys and smiled with their friends and relatives in court.

Mrs. Inez Singleton, the widow of the slain guard was openly dismayed at the verdict.

Eve of the convicts waved all delay and were immediately sentenced to prison. Tony Brown and James Gleason had previously entered a secondary defense of "not guilty by reason of insanity." They withdrew that plea today to clear the record and immediately accepted sentence.

SEEKS IMMUNITY
Al Stewart, the one who turned State's evidence, alone availed himself of the customary delay. He aims to secure immunity. On request of his attorney an announcement of his sentence was postponed until next Friday.

PREVIOUS ATTEMPT RUMORED

Another rumor current yesterday was that a previous attempt had been made to hand Lee money in the presence of another member of the council.

Lee refused to make any statement in addition to the one he made at the council meeting Monday night, saying that next week, all the facts concerning the money will be laid bare to the public.

ENGINEER DENIES CHARGES

Flat denial of the charges made by Attorney W. F. Huber that data for plans of street work in El Cerrito was false and inaccurate was made last night by Ross L. Calfee, City Engineer of El Cerrito. Calfee declared that the state highway commission and engineers, following a protest made by Huber, inspected and approved the improvements, finding no fault with them. He characterized Huber's allegations in regard to the improvements as not based on facts and stated that for this reason the city council overruled his protest made several months ago.

Convenience Of Electrical Refrigeration Described

In these busy days when the housewife has numerous interests outside the home, it is necessary for the manufacturer of home appliances to make his product as free from mechanical worry as possible, without interfering with its efficiency.

The busy housewife cannot be expected to remember to oil the mechanism, yet in most machines it is necessary that this attention be given at regular intervals to prevent serious damage and expense. Then too, there is the inconvenience suffered by being temporarily deprived of some much needed household aid.

"The General Electric Refrigerator is one that can be plugged in the nearest convenient outlet and actually forgotten, in so far as the mechanics of the machine are concerned," states C. R. Alexander of 117 Macdonald avenue. "However, the very beauty of the machine and the perfect service it renders keeps it from becoming forgotten once it is installed in the kitchen," continued Carl Alexander. "We have had a number of inquiries from women who have seen General Electric refrigerators in the homes of their friends. Its extreme simplicity invariably makes a lasting impression on them and has been care of its sick will more than compensate you.

You have my best wishes for its every success."

(Signed)
CHARLES S. RENWICK.

FAVORED BY DOCTORS

"In view of my past and present practice in Richmond and Contra Costa County, I am heartily in accord with this community needs being served by the construction of a modern, well-equipped hospital, of the capacity you have in mind. It is the outstanding need of this community and I will be only too glad to support it. This is a movement that should eliminate personal ambitions and prejudices and all exert their full strength and co-operation in securing its completion.

DR. E. R. GUINAN.

"A modern hospital in the west end of the county is an absolute necessity and I will patronize a hospital built according to the plans and schedule of Hospital Richmond, Inc., with but few exceptions."

DR. M. L. FERNANDEZ.

"My position as operator of an ambulance service has given me a good general view of the hospital situation in this community. Hospitalization facilities in Richmond are very limited (although I think well conducted).

Practically every day we are called upon to take patients to out of town hospitals. We have experienced difficulty in finding room in hospitals even in our big sister cities owing to the overcrowded situation.

In my opinion, an up to date, fire proof, one-hundred-bed hospital such as you have planned is just about what Richmond needs and will support."

(Signed)
AUBREY WILSON.

VALUABLE ASSET

Hospital Richmond plan of financing construction is feasible and workable, and should succeed. An institution of this kind, that will ultimately keep in this city region the large sums of money that are now going to foreign territory, will undoubtedly be a valuable asset to our city and will be a very positive means of making this city's region a better and more prosperous place in which to live.

(Signed)
J. L. EAKLE.

NEED APPARATUS

"I appreciate very much the privilege of being associated with you in Hospital Richmond, Inc. On December 4, 1927, we received our appointment as depository from the State Corporation Department, for your company. This is conclusive evidence to that body that the need of a modern hospital for Richmond is apparent even to people who are not residents of Richmond.

Local support of doctors, industries and individuals should be of great assistance to you and your associates in bringing this project to a successful conclusion.

A new modern hospital such as your plans call for should be of inestimable value to the citizens of Richmond."

(Signed)
FRED CAUDLE.

2 THIEVES AND FORGER DRAW PRISON TERMS

MARTINEZ, Feb. 21. — With Probation Officer Thomas A. Boyer submitting unfavorable reports, Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie today denied probation of three men convicted of felony offenses and sentenced them to indeterminate terms in San Quentin penitentiary. Those sentenced are J. H.
